Dear Mr. Spitzer:

Greetings! On behalf of the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce, I'm delighted to extend this formal invitation to visit our sun-kissed city, where pristine beaches, azure water, and world-class entertainment await.

Though you might soon be single, there's no need to feel lonely here. Why, a spicy, tattooed, little blond 18-year-old named Kristina last week was looking for a friend in Miami on Craigslist. She declared, "I need someone to fill mah azzzzz toonite!" Just the type for a discerning gentleman like you.

It's a great place to seek justice. Drug kingpin Fabio Ochoa found Jesus at trial here. Manuel Noriega had an exercise room in his cell. Hell, Dennis Rodman and Carmen Electra virtually spent their honeymoon in the can.

And when you get out, why not move in like O.J. Simpson? It's a fine place to pen a memoir. Former Miami Beach Mayor Alex Daoud published The Sins of South Beach after 18 months on ice, and he draws packed crowds to book readings. Like you, the guy had a weakness for the ladies.

You'll make friends here quickly too. Check out Kendall Coffey, who resigned as U.S. Attorney after biting a stripper at Club Lipstik. Once forgotten, he's now so successful they let him talk about you on CNN without even mentioning his past. He was so darn complimentary. You'd love this guy.

Miamians have a hearty appetite for life, work, and play. Especially play. So come on down!

Best,

Tamara Lush
